Abstract

This paper presents a comprehensive marketing strategy for a new Bangladeshi company, named Bangla Fresh, aiming to pioneer locally-produced ready-to-eat canned meat and fish products. By targeting specific market segments, utilizing a competitive price range, and leveraging its unique strengths, Bangla Fresh aspires to fill a gap in the current Bangladeshi market dominated by imported offerings.

Keywords: Ready-to-eat canned meat and fish products, Affordability, Local production,
Marketing Strategy

Introduction

The current Bangladeshi market for ready-to-eat canned meat and fish products heavily relies on imported goods, creating a demand for local producers who can offer a superior value proposition for Bangladeshi consumers. Bangla Fresh intends to satisfy this demand by offering high-quality, affordable, and culturally relevant canned products.

Market Segmentation and Target Audience:

The primary target audiences for Bangla Fresh's offerings include:

- Busy professionals: Individuals with demanding careers and limited time for meal preparation.
- Families with young children: Households seeking quick and convenient meal solutions for the entire family.
- Students: Individuals residing away from home who need easy-to-prepare and budget-friendly meals.
- Individuals in remote locations: Those residing in areas with limited access to fresh meat and fish markets.

SWOT Analysis

- Strengths:
 1. Locally sourced and produced: Offering freshness and affordability compared to imported products.
 2. High-quality ingredients: Commitment to using fresh, ethically sourced meat and fish for a superior flavour.
 3. Food safety standards: Strict adherence to hygiene and health protocols for consumer trust and peace of mind.

4. Understanding local preferences: Tailoring products to suit Bangladeshi consumers' demands and tastes.
- Weaknesses:
 1. Limited brand recognition: New company requiring efforts to establish a strong brand identity.
 2. Lack of industry experience: Overcoming initial challenges associated with entering a new market.
 3. Restricted marketing budget: Employing creative and cost-effective marketing strategies for maximum impact.
 - Opportunities:
 1. Growing demand for convenience: Capitalizing on the increasing need for ready-to-eat meals due to busy lifestyles.
 2. Rising disposable income: Appealing to consumers' increasing purchasing power with affordable options.
 3. Health and nutrition awareness: Aligning with the growing trend of prioritizing healthy and fulfilling dietary choices.
 - Threats:
 1. Strong competition from established brands: Effectively differentiating from existing imported products.
 2. Economic fluctuations: Adapting to potential changes in consumer spending and financial uncertainty.
 3. Shifting consumer preferences: Continuously monitoring and adapting to evolving consumer tastes and trends.
 - Marketing Mix: The 4 Ps

1. Product:

- I. Use of innovative packaging solutions for extended shelf life, hygiene, and easy consumption. Attractive and informative labelling highlighting product benefits, nutritional information, and usage instructions.
- II. Wide range of canned meat and fish products, incorporating traditional Bangladeshi dishes and popular international flavours.

2. Price:

- I. Competitive pricing strategy ensuring affordability compared to imported brands while maintaining profitability.
- II. Initial discounts and promotional offers to attract customers and encourage trial purchases.
- III. Implementation of multi-pack discounts and loyalty programs for stimulating frequent purchases and customer loyalty.

3. Place:

- I. Distribution network encompassing major supermarkets, grocery stores, and convenience stores throughout Bangladesh.
- II. Robust online presence with an accessible e-commerce platform for direct-to-consumer sales.
- III. Strategic partnerships with local restaurants and food delivery services for expanded product reach and convenience.

• Promotion:

- I. Targeted advertising campaigns specifically tailored for each distinct market segment.

- II. Public relations initiatives to build brand awareness and create positive media coverage.
- III. Engaging social media presence for fostering community interaction and product promotion.
- IV. In-store product demonstrations and sampling programs for showcasing product quality and encouraging trial purchases.

Uniqueness and Competitive Advantages

Bangla Fresh's key competitive advantages include:

- Locally produced, superior freshness: Highlighting the advantages of locally sourced and processed ingredients compared to imported products.
- Affordability: Offering a lower price point than competing imported brands while maintaining high quality.
- Fresh and ethical sourcing: Emphasizing the use of fresh meat and fish obtained through responsible and ethical sourcing practices.
- Local taste and cultural relevance: Bringing a clear understanding of Bangladeshi cuisine and tailoring products to meet local preferences.

As a leading provider of ready-to-eat canned meat and fish products in Bangladesh, Bangla Fresh is deeply committed to operating in a socially responsible manner and contributing to the well-being of the communities it serves. We believe that businesses have a responsibility to not only create value for shareholders but also to make a positive impact on society and the environment.

Our CSR Pillars:

- Promoting Sustainable Sourcing and Ethical Practices: We are committed to sourcing our ingredients from sustainable farms and suppliers that adhere to ethical labour practices. We also strive to minimize our environmental impact by employing eco-friendly packaging solutions and reducing waste generation.
- Supporting Local Communities and Economic Development: We actively engage with local communities to identify and address their needs. We provide support to local farmers and fishermen, creating employment opportunities and promoting sustainable livelihoods.
- Enhancing Nutrition and Food Security: We recognize the importance of nutrition and food security, particularly for vulnerable populations. We collaborate with local organizations to distribute our products to underserved communities and promote healthy eating habits.
- Empowering Women and Promoting Gender Equality: We are committed to creating a workplace that is inclusive and empowering for women. We provide equal opportunities for women in all aspects of our operations and support initiatives that promote gender equality in our communities.

Conclusion

In conclusion, Bangla Fresh stands poised to disrupt the Bangladeshi ready-to-eat canned meat and fish market by offering a compelling value proposition that addresses the unmet needs of local consumers. The company's strategic focus on locally sourced ingredients, competitive pricing, and a deep understanding of Bangladeshi taste preferences will set it apart from established imported brands. By effectively implementing the 4Ps of marketing – product, price, place, and promotion – Bangla Fresh can effectively penetrate the market, gain market share, and establish itself as a trusted brand among Bangladeshi consumers.
